

SLO Screen Student View: This is an example of what a student sees when he/she clicks the “Student Learning Outcomes” link in Seaport<sup>3</sup> (Micro Economics Course). Course, program, and institutional SLOs are visible to the student. In this example, it appears that the student is failing to achieve many SLOs, but some SLOs may not have been introduced yet, as this screen shot was taken early in the semester. The student can click each link and will be taken to another page that describes the assignments associated with the SLO and how each assignment is weighted in the assessment of that SLO.

The screenshot shows a web browser window with the URL <http://seaport.coastline.edu/EXT/NewSLO/NewStudentSLO.cfm?type=Student>. The page header includes the Coastline Community College logo and navigation links for 'My Seaport', 'Online Courses', and 'Contact Us'. The main content area is titled 'What are Student Learning Outcomes?' and explains that SLOs describe what a student should be able to do at the end of a course or program. Below this, it shows the student's progress: '(Fully Met : 80 %) and (Partially Met: 60%)'. A table lists five SLOs with their respective 'Your Percentage' and 'Achievement' status.

SLO	Your Percentage	Achievement
Analyze the economic problem of scarcity in terms of how it relates to the concepts of choice and opportunity cost, and to everyday life for individuals, firms, and the public sector.	40.00 %	FailedtoAchieve
Use the supply and demand model to evaluate how prices are established in the market system, the effect of externalities, public goods, taxes, and price controls, and how prices provide information and incentives to both buyers and sellers and influence the distribution of income.	0.00 %	FailedtoAchieve
Apply marginal analysis to the output decisions of firms in both perfectly and imperfectly competitive markets and use rational decision-making techniques to formulate optimal solutions to such problems as price determination, profit maximization, and shut down decisions for firms.	0.00 %	FailedtoAchieve
Apply the methods of microeconomic analysis to specific contemporary issues, including consumer behavior and utility maximization, firm behavior and rent seeking, and public policy with an emphasis on solutions to market failures.	0.00 %	FailedtoAchieve
Demonstrate ability to apply critical thinking and analysis.	0.00 %	FailedtoAchieve
Demonstrate innovative thinking, and adaptive, creative problem solving skills.	8.00 %	FailedtoAchieve

The main content area features a section titled "What are Student Learning Outcomes?" with a graduation cap icon. Below this, a paragraph explains that SLOs describe what a student should be able to DO at the end of a course or program, assessed at three levels: Course, Program, and Institutional. A specific SLO is listed: "Analyze the economic problem of scarcity in terms of how it relates to the concepts of choice and opportunity cost, and to everyday life for individuals, firms, and the public sector. (Fully: 80 %) (Partially: 60%)".

To the left of the main content, there is a sidebar with a "No Image Available" placeholder, a "My Seaport" section with a "Back to Course" link for "Principles of Microeconomics", and a list of navigation links: "Announcements", "Calendar", "Communications", "Course Information", "Course Lessons", and "Course Materials".

Below the SLO description is a table showing assessment results:

Assessment Title	Points	Your Score	Your Percent
Chapters 1/2 - Discussion-Forum [50 %]	5.00	4.00	80 %
Midterm Essay (Elasticity or Costs of Production)-Seaport [50 %]	20.00		0 %

The Windows taskbar at the bottom shows several open applications: SunGard Higher Edu..., Seaport Learning M..., draft 9-10 - Microso..., 9-15 still need - Mic..., and SLO Screen Student ... The system clock indicates 1:03 PM.
