President's Message

On behalf of our faculty, administrators, and staff, I am pleased to present Coastline's annual report for the academic year 2009-10. The accomplishments are impressive. Many are to be commended for these accomplishments—the interim presidents of the college during the 2009-10 academic year, the faculty, the students, the management team, the Coastline Foundation and our Foundation Board, the advisory boards, and Coastline's many active and highly-supportive community and industry partners.

In the past three months of my new presidency, I have found that Coastline's achievements are the result of a deep commitment to serving the students and the community, as well as the college's collaborative, teamwork-centered approach to getting things done. In addition, there is tremendous pride and motivation for continually advancing through excellence and innovation. I commend the Coastline team for making last year another outstanding year of accomplishments.

This Annual Report is a detailed yet easy-to-read guide that highlights the College's main accomplishments for the 2009-2010 fiscal year. We're happy to share with you our awards and accolades, notable events, faculty and staff achievements, grant awards, our donor list, and financial data. We are most proud of the list of student achievements. Thousands of students were touched by the classes, programs and services provided by Coastline.

Serving students, and serving them well in order to foster their personal and academic success, is at the heart of what we do and aim to accomplish. It is rewarding to know that our gestures, no matter how small or insignificant they may sometimes seem, make a difference in the lives and experiences of our students. I extend my heartfelt appreciation to Coastline's faculty, staff, and management team, as well as our Foundation supporters and community and industry partners who were instrumental in filling the pages of this Annual Report. Without their vision, leadership, and passionate involvement, none of these accomplishments would have been possible.

Sincerely,

About Coastline

Unlike most colleges, Coastline does not have a traditional campus. Instead, instruction is offered at sites throughout the Coast Community College District. The College has three main mini-campuses based in Costa Mesa, Garden Grove and Westminster, with an administration building (offering enrollment services, counseling, a bookstore, and more) in Fountain Valley.

At Coastline, students can choose to take courses to fulfill their general education transfer requirements, or explore exciting vocational programs like Biotechnology and Informatics. In addition, Coastline also offers a renowned English as a Second Language (ESL) program and a unique Acquired Brain Injury (ABI) program.

Coastline Community College has an international reputation as one of the nation's most innovative institutions. Founded in 1976, Coastline is committed to student success through accessible and flexible education within and beyond the traditional classroom. A majority of students take at least one class via the College's state-of-the-art Distance Learning program, which allows flexible learning via the internet, CD-ROM, Emmy award winning telecourses, and even classes on hand-held PDA.

The college also forms progressive and unique relationships with business and industry. For example, Coastline has combined efforts with the Workforce Investment Board to operate the Orange County One-Stop Centers, which offer employment services for individual job-seekers and for businesses. In addition, Coastline's Contract Education program includes an extensive program that allows enlisted members of the U.S. Military to easily pursue an education (mainly via Distance Learning) at Coastline.

Coastline is part of the Coast Community College District, which spans seven cities and also includes Orange Coast College and Golden West College.
