Congratulations to two recently-published Coastliners

Two members of the Coastline team have been recently published. Mark Worden and Shariq Ahmed, along with a team of instructors from California State University, Fullerton, co-wrote a research paper titled "Video Conferencing Guidelines for Faculty and Students in Graduate Online Courses". The paper is published in the December 2012 issue of MERLOT Journal of Online Learning and Teaching. To view the paper, click here <http://jolt.merlot.org/currentissue.html>. Mark Worden is a member of the OLIT team here at Coastline, as well as teaching in the Business Computing program. He is also a Lecturer in the Instructional Design & Technology master's program at California State University, Fullerton. Shariq Ahmed teaches mobile technology here at Coastline, as well as teaching in the Instructional Design & Technology master's program at California State University, Fullerton.

Coastline Latino Youth Leadership Conference held at Westminster High School

The annual Latino Youth Leadership Conference was held on campus at Westminster High School on March 15, 2013. The event is hosted by Coastline in cooperation with the League of United Latin American Citizens. More than 120 high school students attended presentations on college opportunities, the history of LULAC, anti-bullying, and rising above stereotypes. Special keynote speakers included Coastline Communication Studies Instructor Liza Rios, and also Delilah Snell, owner of The Road Less Traveled. A special "thank you" to Vinicio Lopez, Dorothy McCollom, Cristina Arellano, Benny Diaz (LULAC), Nellie Diaz (LULAC) and the rest of the planning team who made this event happen.

Filming at Newport Beach Center equals new footage and furniture for Coastline

On Monday of this week, a film crew was on-site at the Newport Beach campus filming classes and common areas for a Steelcase promotional video. Steelcase is the supplier of much of Coastline's furniture. In exchange for our participation, Steelcase provided a classroom-full of new, interactive furniture (you can see an overview of the furniture and its capabilities here). Coastline also retained rights to the footage shot on this day so that we can utilize it when creating general college promo videos. Thank you to Dick Shiring, Fred Feldon, and Pete Snetsinger who, along with their students, participated in the video shoot. If you want to see the new furniture, it's in room 239 of the NB campus.
