

President's Monthly Update for Coastline

September 18, 2017

Dear Coastline Colleagues:

As we get into the fourth week of the Fall Semester, Summer seems like a distant memory from long ago. Nonetheless, I hope that you found some time during the short summer to get some rest and relaxation, and to spend time with your family, friends, and loved ones.

Thanks to all of you who were able to join us for our All College Meeting/Flex Day and our Guided Pathways' kick off. In the next two years, we look forward to developing, designing, and implementing our version of the Guided Pathways as a transformative framework for student success, based on our strengths and our aspirations for our students. We are already doing a lot of great things to support student success, individually and collectively. The guided pathways movement is an opportunity to dream out loud, leverage our successes in increasing our institutional effectiveness, and to transform our practices for the maximum benefit of our students. Specific plans and activities will be shared soon for continuing our dialog and work on Guided Pathways.

A critical part of our Guided Pathways journey is understanding more deeply our student achievement data, as reflected in our key performance indicators and other student data that you or our college may have at the student, course, program, department, wing, and/or institutional level. I encourage all of us get into the habit of regularly reviewing student data and having robust dialog with our colleagues. Our Institutional Effectiveness Department website is a valuable and rich resource for student achievement data, including our College Scorecard, at <http://www.coastline.edu/about/institutional-effectiveness>. Please check it out, and if you don't see the data you need, please contact Dr. Aeron Zentner and his team.

As you can see in the Enrollment Update below, we are well on our way in terms of reaching our FTES target—thanks to all of you. It is clear that we are already doing a very good job in terms of providing access to our students. Our ultimate goal, of course, is to have as many of them retained and be successful. One of the factors that affect our institutional success data, as well as financial aid data, are students who enrolled but may never have attended classes, or stopped attending classes. Your assistance is requested in noting no show or dropping these students in a timely manner.

If you have students that need additional support in order to succeed, please refer them to our comprehensive array of student support services, our student success centers, our counseling faculty, and other student support programs. We have tremendous faculty, administrators, staff, and student workers in our student services and academic support programs to assist our instructional colleagues and their students.

Our accreditation self study is underway and I appreciate everyone's support and engagement in this process. Special thanks to our Accreditation Steering Committee, led by Danny Pittaway, Vince Rodriguez, and Aeron Zentner. If you are not yet involved in this process, I invite you to please do so.

As always, our Fall semester is expected to be extremely busy, invigorating with many activities at, at times, exhausting. Words are not enough to express my deep appreciation to each of you--- for all that you do for Coastline, our students, and each other. I am proud and grateful for all that you do. Thank you!

Accreditation Update

Our accreditation self-evaluation process is well on its way, led by Faculty-Co Chair Danny Pittaway, Accreditation Liaison Officer Vince Rodriguez and the the Accreditation Steering Committee. The goal is to have a complete draft of the Institutional Self Evaluation Report (ISER) by November/December, 2017. The purpose of the self evaluation is to promote critical self-reflection and evaluation of what we are doing well in terms of meeting the Accreditation Standards, identify gaps or areas that need improvement, and to fill the gaps and/or implement improvements identified to meet the Accreditation Standards, Commission Policies, and/or Eligibility Requirements prior to the External Accreditation Peer Review Visit in early March, 2019. If you would like more information on the self-evaluation process or how to get involved, please contact Danny, Vince, or any of the Accreditation Steering Committee Members. We invite you to get involved—your perspective is valued and your contributions are appreciated.

2016-2017 Program Review Summary

At the heart of our integrated planning process is program review. Under the leadership of our Program Review Committee, co-chaired by Josh Levenshus and Aeron Zentner, programs are reviewed based a schedule developed by the Committee. Program Review is critical in making sure that we are fulfilling our mission and achieving continuous improvement for the benefit of our students. Attached is a summary of program reviews completed for the 2016-17 academic year. You may also find additional information on the Program Review website at <http://www.coastline.edu/about/program-review>. I appreciate the hard work of our faculty, managers, and staff in conducting program review and, more importantly, implementing continuous improvements as a result.

Update on DACA Program

These are difficult and uncertain times for students who are enrolled in the Deferred Action for Childhood Arrivals (DACA). The more than 800,000 individuals who participate in the DACA program are also called “Dreamers.” As you may have read in the news, President Trump recently made a decision to end DACA. While there appears to be some legislative advocacy for saving DACA participants from possible deportation, nothing is written legislatively at this time. The California Community College System of 114 colleges, the Coast Community College District (including Coastline) remains committed to serving and supporting our DACA students. Copies of Chancellor Oakley’s and Chancellor Weispfenning’s memos are attached. As noted in Chancellor Weispfenning’s memo, the State Chancellor’s Office has dedicated a website for undocumented students via the link <http://www.cccco.edu/ResourcesforUndocumentedStudents.aspx>. As well, a San Francisco-based nonprofit has established scholarship funds especially to help CA community college, CSU, and UC students pay for the $495 renewal fee. Interested DACA students should visit <http://lc4daca.org>. You may also refer students who need assistance or additional information to Julie Mendez-Marquez, EOPS Director at jmendez54@coastline.edu (714-241-6207) or Maria Hernandez Figueroa at mhernandezfigueroa@coastline.edu (714-241-6427). A resource page on our website is also under development by our Marketing Department.

Event Highlights

Foundation Appreciation Event – “Stage Coast”

Coastline Community College Foundation hosted its annual Donor Appreciation Reception on Friday, September 8th at the Newport Beach Campus. “Stage Coast” guests enjoyed an evening in country western theme, complete with BBQ, line dancing and country tunes provided by Coastline band, One Credit Shy. Special guests included Trustee Mary Hornbuckle and her husband Jerry, Vice Chancellors Dr. Andreea Serban & Dr. Cindy Vyskocil, District Director of Human Resources Crystal Crane, Coastline Foundation Board members, including the newly-elected Foundation President, David Osborn; as well as corporate sponsors, faculty, staff and community members. The Foundation is thankful for the continued support of their donors, and looks forward to celebrating with them again next year. For more information on how to donate to Coastline Foundation, please contact foundation@coastline.edu.

Coastline Art Gallery Opening

On the evening of Friday, September 8, 2017, the Art Gallery launched the Strings Attached Fiber Arts Exhibit with a runway fashion show hosted by Santino Rice from Project Runway. The gallery exhibit displays various mediums celebrating fine arts & fashion, including jewelry, mixed media paintings, textiles and fabric sculpture. Visit the Coastline Art Gallery while the exhibit is on display until October 19, 2017. Please contact Art Gallery Curator, David Lee, for more information: dmlee@coastline.edu.
